

juha kaakinen

professor of practice

faculty of social sciences, tampere university ceo of y-foundation

© kirsi tuura

juha kaakinen studied literature at the University of Helsinki and sociology and social policy at the Faculty of Political Science. during his professional career, he has held various positions in the city of helsinki's homeless services. from 1990 to 2011, he was the managing director of sosiaalikehitys oy, a research and development company owned by the city of Hämeenlinna and ten municipalities. he was also an expert member of the board of the y-foundation and its managing director from 2013 to 2022, an expert at the ministry of social affairs and employment from 2002 and programme director of the programme to reduce long-term homelessness at the ministry of the environment from 2008 to 2012. juha kaakinen was a member of the government's inequalities working group in 2018 and an expert on ending homelessness in 2022.

he has written more than 50 articles and evaluation reports on social services, employment projects and homelessness.

he is also a professor of practice at the faculty of social sciences at the university of tampere in finland. (www.tuni.fi)