

eveline würger

housing affairs advisor, city of graz

© stadt graz/fischer

eveline würger began her professional journey after discontinuing medical studies and nearly completing a degree in art history. she initially gained experience in the care of the elderly and individuals with disabilities. subsequently, she transitioned to the real estate sector, obtaining certifications as a real estate agent, property manager, and developer. following a leadership role at a senior care center, she assumed responsibility for housing assistance for financially disadvantaged individuals within the social mediation service. this experience led to her appointment as housing coordinator in the „housing first“ project, and eventually to her role as housing advisor to elke kahr, the mayor of graz. (author's abstract)

short biography